

I fully support the ARRL's recommendations in reference to the restructuring of the amateur radio license classes. The only suggestion I would make is that the entry level license suggested by the ARRL be called something other than 'Novice' so as not to confuse it with the present 'Novice' class which no longer exists. Having taught several licensing classes I also think that the questions on every licensing test should be well thought-out so as to only include material relevant to that licensing class; that test takers do not have to learn material that they will never use.
